Scholarship Program For CSI Started

College of Southern Idaho campus architects, Jones-Fehlbeg Associates, have given the first $100 in a new "Project Scholarship" program launched by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Scholarships in sums of at least $100 are now being accepted from organizations, clubs, businesses and individuals.

Earl Faulkner, Chamber of Commerce, notes that "June is scholarship month at CSI."

During this month, Mr. Faulkner said, the Chamber hopes to collect at least 200 $100 scholarships to invest in students attending the College of Southern Idaho.

Dr. Donald Keith, academic dean, said selection of worthy students will be made by the scholarship board at the college.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes that through this program many more students will be able to take advantage of the educational opportunities at CSI. Payments, Mr. Faulkner said, can be made annually or semi-annually at payments and are tax deductible.

Girl Drowns Trying To Save Horse Near Ketchum

KETCHUM — A 20-year-old California girl who attempted to save a horse from drowning, lost her own life in the swirling current of the muddy Big Wood River Sunday afternoon.

Shari Kohal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kohal of Alamos, Calif., fell into the river at about 4:30 p.m. Sunday when she tried to rescue her horse after he had slipped into the water when the river bank collapsed. Her body was recovered two miles downstream from the point where she fell in, near the foot of Bald Mountain west of Ketchum, at 5:45 p.m.

She had been employed as a cashier at Sun Valley's Continental Cafeteria since May, 1966. The drowning occurred after Miss Kohal and a friend, Peggy Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw, Ketchum, had stopped for a rest while riding back to Sun Valley after attending a Ketchum-Warm Springs Riding Club breakfast.

The young woman had hobbled her horse along the bank of the river. Miss Kohal's horse had gone to the edge of the water to drink when the bank gave way beneath him and the horse went into the river.

According to Miss Shaw, when Miss Kohal saw her horse go into the water she ran to it and immediately washed into the fast-moving river.

Rescuers found both sides of the river after Miss Shaw notified rescue officials, but apparently the young woman was too far out in the middle of the treacherous stream to be reached. Observers later told officials that Miss Kohal had made a valiant try for life and still was attempting to swim to safety when she disappeared from sight after reaching a bridge at the foot of the Bald Mountain ski lift.

Blaine County Coroner Dr. A. Scott Earl listed the official cause of death as drowning, and said that Miss Kohal had numerous body and head bruises indicating that she may have lost consciousness shortly after reaching the bridge.

Her body was recovered by Pat Pidgeon and Ed Alas after it was seen lodged against a fence near the river's edge. Ranch, home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Fassett.

Dr. Earl said that Miss Kohal's parents will arrive in Twin Falls to make funeral arrangements. The body is at the Bird Funeral Home, Ketchum.

An ironic twist to the drowning was added when the horse safely walked out of the river, an observer commented.

Sentenced

GEORGE, TIL (AP) — Richard Speck, 25, was sentenced today to death in the electric chair Sept. 1 for murdering eight nurses in their Chicago townhouse, December 1966.

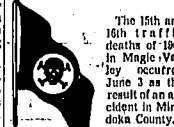

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Herbert C. Pasch of Circuit Court carried out the recommendation of the jury that convicted Speck on April 18. The jury recommended death by hanging, but the judge was not bound to impose the maximum penalty.

The sentence put in motion what is expected to be a series of drawn-out appeals.

In critical condition Monday morning were Vern Jolley, driver of the vehicle in which the Robinsons were passengers, and Pedro Juan Ortiz, driver of the other car.

The accident occurred north of the town of Burley, on the Meridian Road at about 10:20 p.m. Saturday. Both cars were badly damaged. Jolley, Burley, age unknown, was driving a 1966 Ford Sedan owned by Mrs. Robinson. Ortiz, who lives his home on the Wilson

Gunfire Sounds In 4 Lands; War Breaks

JERUSALEM (AP) — For the third time in 20 years, war broke out today in the Middle East and gunfire sounded in Israel and in three of its Arab neighbors — Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

The Arabs, sworn to destroy Israel, were battling the Jewish state's forces on two fronts, at Egypt's Sinai frontier and on the Syria and Jordan borders.

Each side accused the other of lighting the fuse for the explosions.

Neutral

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is neutral in the present Middle East war, the State Department spokesman announced today.

"Our position is neutral in thought, word and deed," press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference.

At the same time the State Department restricted the travel of American citizens to the countries — Arab countries and Israel — until further notice.

An Iranian warship, threatened to involve the major powers.

The main fighting today appeared to be in the Sinai Desert, across the frontier, but United Nations forces guarded United Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered them out 18 days ago.

Artillery fire was heard in Jerusalem, the holy city divided between Jordan and Israel, the port of Haifa was bombed. Israeli planes attacked the airports of three Arab capitals, Cairo, Amman and Damascus.

Amman, the voice of King Hussein, reported heavy fighting along Jordan's 350-mile frontier with Israel.

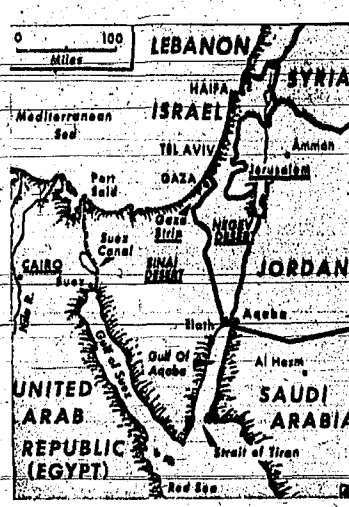

Cairo said Israeli planes attacked Sharm El Sheikh, the point overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba — the area has been blocked to Israeli ships in the central controversy that brought on the fighting.

The Egyptian high command said that Israeli forces had penetrated into the Sinai desert on the southern front and into Khan Youssef, in the middle of the "Strip of the North."

"The enemy has struck our positions in these locations and has been repulsed," a military spokesman in Cairo said.

The attack in Sinai was on the road from the desert frontier to Ismailia, which lies about midway on the Suez Canal, the announcement said.

British "Foreign" Secretary George Brown announced in London that "fighting is spreading all around Israel, that Jerusalem is 'engulfed in war,' and that four British diplomatic

Court Bars Construction Of Mountain Sheep Dam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court barred today immediate construction by a private power group of the High Mountain Sheep dam on the Snake River between Idaho and Oregon.

The 6-2 decision directed the Federal Power Commission to reconsider its licensing order.

"The test is whether the project is in the public interest, not whether the dam should be built at all."

The issue of long standing is the present major one in the contest between private and public power interests.

"The test is whether the project will be in the public interest," Douglas said.

"And that determination can be made only after an exploration of all issues relevant to the 'public interest'."

He said these include future power demand and supply in the area; alternate sources of power; the public interest in preserving reaches of wild river and wilderness areas; the preservation of anadromous fish for commercial and recreational purposes; and the protection of wildlife.

The ruling hinged on interpretation of the 1920 Federal Power Act. This provides that the commission may not license a water resource that in its judgment should be developed by the federal government itself.

Justice John M. Harlan, joined in dissent by Justice Potter

Stewart, said the court should have upheld the FPC's "informed discretion."

Justice Abe Fortas did not participate in the case.

A 50-year license for construction of the dam at the High Mountain Sheep site was awarded to the Pacific Northwest Power and Light Co. Joint venture of private power companies by a 3-2 vote of the commission in February, 1964.

A competing application for construction of the $227 million project had been filed by the Washington Public Power Supply System, an association of public utility districts of the State of Washington.

The U.S. Circuit Court in Seattle had scheduled for 4 p.m.

British Air Rules Viewed After Deaths

LONDON (AP) — Britain's air safety rules came under close scrutiny today following the death of 160 Britons in the crash of two chartered holiday airplanes.

On Saturday night a Douglas DC4 bound for Perpignan, France, smashed into the foot of the Pyrenees, killing all 88 aboard.

Sunday, a four-engine Argonaut coming home from Majorca plunged into the sea off the northern city of Stockholm, killing 72 of the passengers and 12 of the crew. The plane crashed in the only clear area for miles around, and nobody on ground was hurt.

Both planes were owned by private common stock companies, were propeller-driven vehicles around 20 years old. Both had been retired from service by British airlines as they bought newer aircraft. And both crashes came during the landing approach.

The prototype for both planes was designed in 1933. The Argonaut is a Canadian model of the Douglas DC4 with British built engines of American origin. BOAC, the state-owned British Overseas Airways Corp., retired the Argonauts in 1959 after 107 million air miles and two accidents.

Two other DC4s have crashed this year, killing 57 persons. Chartered flight companies in Britain must conform to the same safety rules as BOAC and its sister line, British European Airways. BOAC and BEA have no rules of their own more strict than the minimum required by law. The state lines, however, do not permit pilots to land passengers at an airport which has not been visited on a familiarization flight. Private operators are not required to follow this rule.

War Sends Stock Market Into Tailspin

NEW YORK (AP) — War in the Middle East sent the stock market into a tailspin in early trading today but the loss was sharply pared by early afternoon.

At noon the Dow Jones averages of 30 industrial stocks were down 11.44 points to 853.17. An hour earlier the decline had been 20.7 points.

The New York Stock Exchange common stock index at noon showed a loss of 57 cents in the average price of a share. At 11 a.m., the decline had been $1.10.

The retreat was on a broad front with more than 1,100 issues declining and less than 100 advancing.

Speaker Of House Selection May Take Much Session Time

HOUSTON (AP) — Selection of a new speaker of the house may take more time during the special session of the Idaho Legislature, scheduled to begin June 18, than legislative business.

House Republicans must select a replacement for former Speaker of the House, Carl Albert, who resigned after the regular session to become secretary of state.

Among those being mentioned as Albert's successor are Reps. Robert Green of Boise; William Lansing of Twin Falls; Harold Snow of Moscow; and

Delegates Gathering For PEO Convention

Delegates were continuing to arrive Monday morning and practice sessions were being conducted as delegates to the state PEO Sisterhood convention prepared to convene.

The three-day 52nd annual convention at the Holiday Inn did not actually get under way until 1 p.m. Monday, when registration for the 100-150 delegates began. Following registration, a tea sponsored by chapter D, At-and-BE of Twin Falls was held.

A memorial hour at the Episcopal Church of the Ascension was scheduled for 4 p.m.

A projects dinner at 6:15 p.m. will feature a speech by Rosalind Lee, Idaho's first International Peace Officer. Mrs. Lee is attending Idaho State University.

Also during the dinner, the winner of the 1967-68 term scholarship to Gateway College will be announced. Applicants are from throughout the state.

The first actual business session will begin at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday with Mrs. Elmer Mae Cromer, Butte, Mont., chairman of the PEO Record Board of Trustees as guest speaker. Reports on state officers will be given at this session.

The business session will continue throughout Tuesday and will be concluded with a workshop by a panel of state officers. Another banquet will be held that evening.

During the Wednesday morning session officers and delegates to supreme will be elected. Reports will follow election and the convention will conclude early Wednesday afternoon.

EMBASSY EVACUATED
TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — Demonstrators set fire to the British embassy here today and broke windows in the U.S. Information Agency building. The embassy was evacuated.

Summer Paving Program Started By City

Street department crews of Twin Falls have launched their 1967 summer paving program, which will add nearly three miles of new street surface to Twin Falls.

Most of the paving is in new residential areas and on streets recently opened. City commissioners point out the annual paving and street improvement program is limited by available funds and time, as permitted by favorable weather.

Weather is the key factor in the annual program, with work beginning as soon as weather permits and continuing until halted by cold wet weather. Last year the program extended through most of October alone, covering oil and asphalt, represented some $26,000. About the same amount will be spent on paving material this year, Ronald Scheuffele, city engineer, reports.

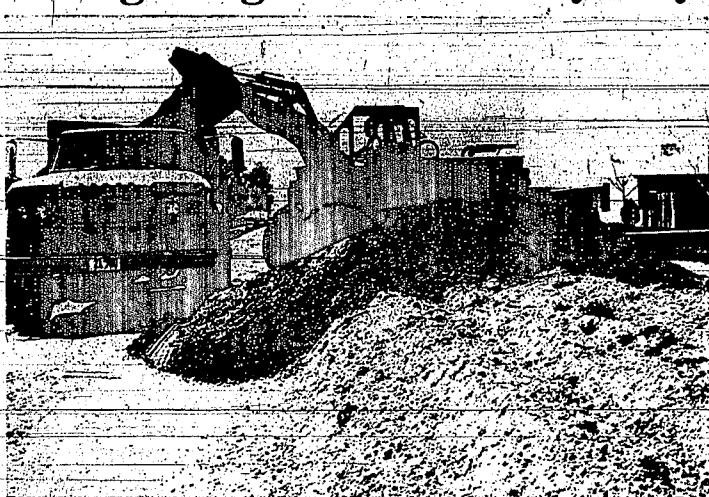

Most of the street department cost on new paving comes from the general budget, but property owners along streets where paving is requested pay $1 per running foot of their property fronting on the particular street.

This compares with other cities charging from $3 per foot to as high as $9, and represents a bargain for Twin Falls residents, the engineer explained.

On this year's schedule are eight specific projects. Held over from the 1966 season are paving of Locust Street North, going from the High School building to Falls Avenue, and Evergreen Drive which was started last year and now has received new crushed rock during the past few weeks. Other projects include Maurice Street North and Maurice Street Circle in the newly opened Duval Courts, Sherry Drive and Sunrise Boulevard, all in the Willis Subdivision No. 3; Elm Street North from Addison Avenue East to Heyburn Avenue East; Hillcrest Drive and Hillcrest Lane and the alley in block 117.

An addition to the 1967 program, approved since work began, is Sherry Lane, which was approved for paving.

Paving policies in Twin Falls, Mr. Scheuffele said, require that curb and gutter installations be completed before street paving is approved. Unless curb and gutter installations are completed, he explained, moisture will deteriorate pavement, making expenditures unreasonable for the life of the improvement. This year the city plans a number of streets for oil treatment only. This will not be a STREET CREWS AND EQUIPMENT will be working full time through the summer on the 1967 Twin Falls paving program. Here initial work on Evergreen Drive, one of the first programs on the agenda, makes way for paving machines. About eight major projects will be completed before cold weather brings a halt to the program.

176,000 U.S. Youths Fail Draft Exam

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite lowered mental standards, more than 176,000 American youths were rejected for the draft last year because they were unable to meet even those requirements.

Another 23,355 were turned down on both mental and medical grounds at preinduction examinations in 1966.

The lowered standards, however, resulted in only about 12 percent of potential draftees flunking mental requirements in 1968 compared with nearly 21 percent in 1965.

These statistics appear in a report by the Army surgeon general's office based on examinations of youths for military service last year.

The most significant factor that affected the results was the increased demand for military manpower caused by the intensified Vietnam conflict, the surgeon general's report said.

It brought about "decisive modifications in the standards of military acceptability—specifically, by lowering the mental standards."

The 176,027 who failed to meet mental requirements last year represented a drop of 51,782 from 1965, a year of tougher standards.

The 23,355 who were both mentally and physically disqualified were some 5,000 below the previous year.

The report showed 198,259 white youths flunked mental qualification in 1966 compared with 137,425 in 1965—a drop of about 31 percent.

Among Negro youths, 67,774 failed to meet mental standards compared with 90,584 in 1965—a decline of about 25 percent.

The number of youths examined for the draft vaulted sharply in 1965, under the impetus of the Vietnam buildup. The 1968 total of those examined came to 1.61 million compared with 1.23 million in 1965.

Johnson Gets Kennedy's Endorsement

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson got a big political windfall in New York over the weekend—a surprisingly warm and unqualified endorsement from Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

After months of talk of feud, the two men met for the first time at a Democratic fund-raising dinner Saturday night and, addressing his fellow New Yorkers, gave his all-out blessing for Johnson to Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Kennedy, in effect, overshadowed the President's own speech.

"Webster defines greatness as largeness of size, much above the average in magnitude, intensity and importance," Kennedy said, adding that the definition applied to Johnson.

"The height of his aim, the breadth of his achievements, the record of his past and the promises of his future—all these speak the largeness of size, that magnitude of effort, that intensity of devotion and that importance of accomplishment," said Kennedy.

Kennedy has previously endorsed Johnson and Humphrey for 1968 but not in such lengthy or effusive terms. And his embrace came only a few days after the latest of moves by Kennedy supporters whom he was disavowed to place his name on some presidential primary election ballots.

Looking ahead to next year's presidential election, New York's junior senator said of Johnson: "In 1964 he won the biggest popular victory in modern times and with our help he will do so again in 1968. And with our help, he will have by his side the best vice president since his predecessor."

Humphrey's predecessor was, of course, Johnson, who served as John F. Kennedy's vice president.

From this dinner, a $100-a-plate affair sponsored by the state Democratic organization, Johnson rode with Kennedy in the presidential limousine to another Manhattan hotel and two other party fund-raising events.

As the two men emerged from the limousine, they posed together for photographers—their beaming faces and hearty handclasp seeming to belie any thought of bad blood between them.

That Johnson was elated with Kennedy's endorsement was evident. Kennedy wondered if he wouldn't in the future look to Kennedy with greater warmth and vice versa.

Kennedy went on: "He has sought consensus but he has never shrunk from controversy. He has gained huge popularity but he has never failed to spend it in the interests of his country."

The senator had been scheduled to introduce Johnson. But the plans that brought him to New York from England, where he had attended the funeral of a family friend, fell behind schedule and so he was tardy.

ASTONISHED
NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—Two Mau Mau in anti-colonial skin-cloaks emerged from 14 years of hiding in the Kenyan jungles Sunday and were astonished to learn that Kenya had won its independence 3½ years ago.

The bewildered pair, "Captain" Kimotho Ngonyu and "Office" Kamau Githuhwa, were further astonished to hear that the anti-white Mau Mau terrorist campaign had ended—more than a decade ago.

The pair surrendered to police after an old man who found them in the forest brought them newspapers to show that Jomo Kenyatta is now president of independent Kenya.

Crime Commission Says Use Of Computers Could Help

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential crime commission report says use of computers could limit a fundamental weakness in crime control—lack of quick information.

The report said the computer could provide immediate information from a central data base to any police officer or wanted persons or stolen property.

It also could help place officers quickly at trouble spots which erupt quickly, correlate facts about past crimes to help solve new ones and help prescribe treatment for offenders.

The report was released Sunday by the task force on science and technology of the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice. It is the fifth of three reports released after a detailed study of crime in America.

Nicholas Katzenbach, under secretary of state, former attorney general and the commission chairman, said he hopes the report will result in a major program of applying science and technology to crime control.

"Heretofore, science has limited itself mainly to solving individual crimes," he said. "Through the use of computers, integrated communications systems, better command and control systems and systems analysis—science can begin to seek solutions to the overall problems of controlling crime."

Two other study groups made other crime-related recommendations Sunday night.

The American Bar Association's advisory committee on sentencing and review suggested all states and the federal government give criminal defendants the right to challenge sentences imposed by trial judges.

Thirteen states now allow sentence review appeals and eight others permit it to some degree. Federal sentence review is rare except for military courts.

The panel recommended appeals courts not be allowed to increase sentences upon defendants' appeal and that prosecutors not be allowed to appeal for stiffer sentences.

The House Republican Task Force on Crime said a House-Senate committee should be established to conduct comprehensive investigations of organized crime. It said the federal effort against organized crime now is poorly coordinated.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Last month my husband, Bob, took me to a popular night spot for dinner. As our dinner was served, a "Dr. X," as I shall call him, was introduced as the evening's entertainment.

Dr. X was billed as "the only hypnotist with a 'Ph.D.' He asked for volunteers, promising that no one would be embarrassed, and they would all awaken from the hypnosis feeling refreshed."

My husband volunteered, resulting in one of the most shattering and exhausting experiences of his life. And I was subjected to humiliation beyond description, as I witnessed my husband and nine other subjects make fools of themselves for an hour.

For example, all the subjects were told they were to "hide" themselves behind another subject; an older-married man was completely uncoordinated. At the same time, my husband tried to "cover" himself as best he could with a handkerchief, looking very miserable indeed.

Finally, the male subjects were told to return to their tables and to kiss their wives more passionately than ever before. My husband and I are newlyweds, so you can imagine the results. My husband proceeded to embrace me in an most personal manner, and I was powerless to stop him.

This may be too long to print, but perhaps if you printed part of it, the public might be made aware of this menace and some legal measures can be taken to stop it.
INFURIATED IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR ABBY: I am going to a church luncheon today, but I leave a cup of tea first, which brings me to the point of this letter. I am an ardent tea drinker and I do not drink coffee. My cup of tea means as much to me as coffee means to those who just HAVE to have a cup of coffee. However, almost everywhere I go, only coffee is served. If you don't drink coffee, you can just drink water.

Many of the luncheons I attend are church or club luncheons and I pay just as much for my lunch as the coffee drinkers do. I wonder how many people would pay for their luncheons if coffee was not served?
AN OLD TEA BAG

DEAR ABBY: Since the absence of tea is a source of annoyance to you, you could either phone ahead and request tea or tote your own tea bags. Your complaint is a valid one, and I'm with you all the way.

DEAR ABBY: "May-Bride" who wanted her brother to be boss man instead of her fiancé's brother because HER brother was tall and handsome, and her fiancé's brother was a "homely little saved-off runt." All I can say is I feel sorry for the man who marries her. And since the height of a child is hereditary, what will she do if she gives birth to a child who is a "homely saved-off little runt" like his uncle? Kidnap the best looking baby in the nursery?

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD WILSON (Shig Morita photo)

Kathryn White, Wilson Repeat Nuptial Vows

In a candlelight ceremony May 5, Kathryn Jean White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard White, exchanged wedding vows with Edward Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wilson.

Rev. Howard Olson and Rev. Jim Winkle officiated at the double ring ceremony. Vows were repeated before beauty baskets of turquoise Spider chrysanthemums and white pom-poms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Bridal Original of chiana crepe, highlighted by a band of Venice lace that encircled the empire line. The gown featured a scooped neckline and the traditional longilly point sleeves. The chapel train flowed from the back empire, which had a band of Venice lace paneled down the center. A cluster of pearl-encrusted lace flowers held her elbow-length veil of English Silk Illusion.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, and a lace-handkerchief belonging to her grandmother. Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mistress of honor was Mrs. Audrey Duncan. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joanne Wilson and Mrs. Jacqueline Passa. Cecil Wilson was best man for his brother, and ushers were Dan Peterson and Bob Wilson, brother of the bride.

Flower girl was Sherrie Webster, and ringbearer was Jimmy Mayson. Candlelighters were Cherle Mason and Dave Wilson.

brother of the bridegroom. Barbara Mason played traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloists, Mrs. No-deen Pierce and Hubert Hendrix. A reception was held after the ceremony in the fellowship hall, with Mrs. Janice DeBoard at the guest book.

The bride's table was covered with pink satin and a white nylon net lace, with garlands of pink roses and daisies. It was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with white wedding bells. Also on the table were crystal candelabra and silver serving dishes. Serving were aunts of the bride, Mrs. Ilene DeBoard, Mrs. Ruth White, Mrs. Beatrice Peterson and Mrs. Mildred Peterson. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Marie Biggerstaff and Mrs. Myrna Roach.

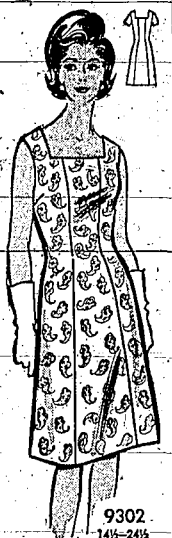

Gifts were displayed by Mrs. Bill Andree, Mrs. Myrna Johnson, Mrs. Betty Winkle, Mrs. Shirley Peterson, Linda Biggerstaff and Beverly Hansen. A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

A pre-nuptial shower for the bride was given by Mrs. Audrey Duncan and Mrs. Ilene DeBoard.

The couple took a wedding trip to San Valley. They are now residing in Twin Falls.

Four Historic Sites Visited

HAGERMAN - The second year Beehive class with their teacher, Mrs. Bob Butler, visited four historic sites in Hagerman, as a part of the MFA class work, recently.

The class visited the Thousand Springs site, the Oregon Trail monument, the old cemetery and a site believed to have been an Indian burial ground.

The Scouts with their leader, Dee Christensen, swam at the Thousand Springs Resort. MFA was under the direction of Jerry Loveland, with Douglas Wood giving the prayer. Kathy Larson led the theme. Music was under the direction of Mrs. Loren Fahren, with Lana Butler as accompanist.

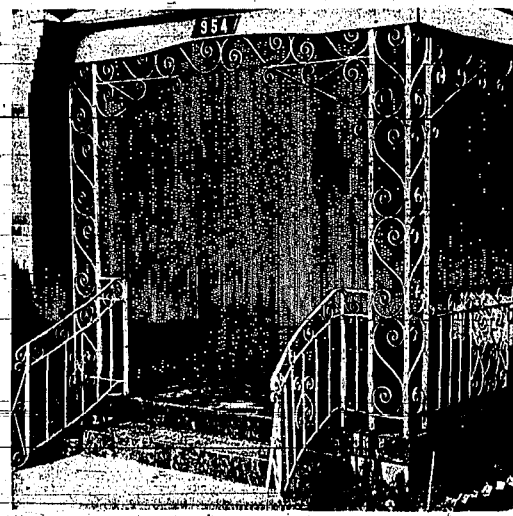

A thank you was given to Sandra Hopkins, guide of Bethel No. 19, who has done a fine job as problem while Carol Stafford, guide of Bethel No. 56, has been unable to attend several meetings.

Burley League Raps Condition Of Schools

By GEORGIA LAYTON
Times-News Correspondent

BURLEY—The Burley League of Women Voters attacked Cassia County residents with scathing comments on the poor support of Cassia County Schools after a tour recently through four of the school plants.

Visited were Burley Junior High School, rated "totally inadequate"; Miller School, "grossly overcrowded, but clean"; Declo Elementary School, "too small a playground"; and Overland Elementary, "Clean, colorful, but no gymnasium or auditorium."

Comments by members of the League and interested parents accompanying the tour were collected by the local study item committee which includes Mrs. Don Beckham, chairman; Mrs. Forrest Hall, president; and Mrs. Rex Hamblin, secretary.

The women recorded a number of anonymous comments from the tour on each of the four schools.

"Without exception the observers felt that the Burley Junior High School is totally inadequate. One observer commented, 'I am unable to see how any learning could take place in such a depressing atmosphere.'"

Other observers stated, "This school is definitely overcrowded, there are one thousand students in a building equipped for five hundred."

"Looking into the future, the quality of the teachers who would come here would not be the best. Who would want to come to this environment when there are so many other places with better facilities."

"The school is dirty. Admittedly an older building is more difficult to keep clean, especially when it is overused, but surely a larger custodial staff is needed."

"The rest room facilities are extremely inadequate, the odor in the boys lavatory is overpowering, and the ceiling is low and ventilation is poor or non-existent."

"In fact, inadequate is the kindest word that can be given for the Burley Junior High School. The dangerous stairways, cracked blackboards, inadequate lighting and ventilation, ancient fastened down benches and jammed lockers."

"The whole school has the appearance of a slum school, where parents don't care about the education of their own children, and haven't cared for a long time."

"Ceilings are in a dangerous condition. Plaster is falling in many places, leaks from the ceiling cause already dangerous stairs to be even more slippery. There is no provision for ninth grade P. E. which is very essential to young people."

"Dirty, overcrowded, very inadequate classrooms. I attended better schools 20 years ago."

"No provision for a line for lunch. No matter what the weather the children would have to wait outside. There isn't adequate area for sports activities and no P. E. classes for ninth grade students. The health service consists of one cook located at the end of the book room."

Continuing, the League members participating in the tour examined the lack of space for classroom, lunch and recreational purposes. The comments here recorded by the tour leaders, included "The development of reading classroom was once a closet and has no window . . . the community has outgrown this building. All available space is being used and there is no place to expand."

Other compiled comments were "It is impossible to hold classes in both the gymnasium and auditorium at the same time, the auditorium serves as a hallway to the classrooms in the annex."

"There is no office space provided where a student or parent could confer with a teacher or adviser."

"The boys' locker rooms were much too small and appeared unsanitary. Storage room for office supplies was inconveniently located."

"There is no office space provided where a student or parent could confer with a teacher or adviser."

"The outside play area consists of two basketball backboards and the small amount of lawn in front of the building is serving 1,047 students."

"Countless things have been done to make the school more usable—and every nook and cranny is being used. The community has outgrown this building. All available space is being used and there is no place to expand."

The tour continued to Miller School, 1221 Normal Ave. These are the comments made by this school. "Considering the lack of adequate facilities, I think the teachers are doing a wonderful job."

Individual attention would be given to each of the four schools. This is bad for so many reasons."

For an older building it appears very clean and cheerful, but lunch room facilities were overcrowded, having only the basement hall in which to eat."

"No auditorium for movies or special programs. It is necessary for the students to go to the already overused Junior High Auditorium."

"I wonder how the students can work who have classes next to the lunch room."

"Girls lavatories should be provided with doors. No facilities for ill students. No windows."

Walks Again

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—When Joan Pellegrini lost both feet in an auto accident two years ago she thought she would never walk again.

Sunday, June 4, she'll come down the aisle of St. Mary's church on her own to become the bride of Joseph M. McDonald of Arlington.

Miss Pellegrini was so severely injured when a car crashed her against a wall at her home that doctors told her mind that she would learn to walk with artificial limbs and she did, first with a cane and now with no assistance.

MANY BABIES BORN NEW DELHI (AP)—Every 15 seconds a baby is born in India's drought-ravaged state of Bihar, a family planning conference reported. The rate for all of India is only one every 1 1/2 seconds, government official said recently.

Ready, Boys?

Overland, England (AP)—Linda McGill, 25-year-old Australian girl who says she plans to swim the English Channel without a top to her swimsuit, was heard Sunday by the Channel Swimming Association.

A spokesman said "as far as we are concerned she can swim with no costume at all."

The association has no rules about swimming, but forbids artificial swimming aids.

Ex-State Department Official Quits Administration Because Of War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former top State Department official says he has quit the administration because it took a military approach to victory in Vietnam—a course he believes would have to be avoided.

Roger Hilsman, former assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, also suggested that despite administration comments to the contrary, President Johnson decided to bomb North Vietnam before Hanoi began mass infiltration of men and supplies southward.

Hilsman said the bombing was aimed at forcing Hanoi to its knees.

President Kennedy "was skeptical of a policy of escalation and of the effectiveness of an air attack on North Vietnam," Hilsman said.

Hilsman appeared on the CBS program "Face the Nation" Sunday and talked about his new book, "To Move a Nation."

Several other prominent officials spoke out Sunday on Vietnam and the Middle East crisis in radio-television appearances, commencement exercises and speeches.

One of those discussing the bombing of North Vietnam was Bill D. Moyers, Johnson's former press secretary.

He told a St. Michael's College commencement audience in Winoski, Vt., that the so-called hawks should recognize power has its limits while the doves or peace advocates should concede power has its place.

In nearby Northfield, Vt., Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor told Norwich University graduates the Vietnam war will test the constancy of the United States in staying with the South Vietnamese until the goals of both have been achieved.

But in Hartford, Conn., Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said that "increasingly, the war in Vietnam is an American effort on Asian soil, rather than an Asian effort with American help."

The U.S. commitment in the Far East, he said at Trinity College, adversely affects its position in Europe and the Middle East.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., who said the United States should act only in conjunction with other nations.

Morse and Stennis appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., making speeches in their states, urged President Johnson to pursue a more flexible policy.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., one of the sharpest critics of Johnson's Vietnam policy, said the United States should take the lead in breaking the blockade.

Morse's view was challenged by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., who said the United States should act only in conjunction with other nations.

Negro Area
Quiet After 2-Hour Clash
CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) - The predominantly Negro North Greenwood section was quiet through the night after a two-hour riot Sunday morning between police and about 200 Negroes.
The rioters teamed the area of bars, pool halls and a low cost housing project, hurling bottles and other objects at police and a special police squad. Police shot riot squad into 10 arrests. The rioters were reported.
Police used clubs and at least one officer was hit with a thrown bottle but no serious injuries were reported.
A police cruiser was wrecked by the mob. Police Capt. William J. Hester said a crowd gathered in the top of the car, smashed all the windows, yanked out the steering wheel, and the "upholstery" was ripped out the radio. He estimated damage at $1,500.
Police Chief Willis Booth said the riot was "spontaneous and could happen anywhere."
He told a news conference, "There has been some people in there who don't want the law enforced," and added he did not think "racial overtones were involved."

U.S. Top World Meat Producer
WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department's foreign service reported today that the United States produced 27 percent of the world's output of red meats last year. This country was far in front as the No. 1 producer.
Total world production was reported at 120.7 billion pounds with U.S. output totaling 32.6 billion. The Soviet Union was second with 17 billion pounds.

Inspectors Review Idaho Schools Unit
BOISE (AP) - Inspectors from the U.S. Office of Education begin a three-day review of the Idaho Department of Education today.
State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Engleking said they have been invited to the department to "determine our strengths and weaknesses." The state receives federal funds under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Others ranging from children of Idaho legislative education committees to university professors, will help in the review, Engleking said.
